

GERMANS, GRANTED FURTHER DELAY, WILL SIGN PEACE TREATY

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German Foreign Minister and head of the German peace-delegation, probably will leave Versailles again to give his own views to the German government. Whether he personally returns to the peace conference is a matter of no consequence. Berlin is ready to replace him should it become necessary.

KAUTSKY MAY SIGN TREATY.

Karl Kautsky, formerly Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the first republican German government and now one of the leaders of the Independent Socialists party, has arrived at Versailles to join the German peace-delegation.

The arrival of Kautsky is considered of great significance, evidencing an inclination on the part of the Independent Socialists to accept the Independent Socialist regime to accept the Independent Socialist peace treaty. It is generally believed here that if Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau refuses to sign and withdraw, Kautsky will take his place as head of the German delegation and sign the document.

The peace treaty is considered by the Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau as a diplomatic triumph. It was once carried on at Washington when Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau was behind the scenes, and the same German propaganda who then characterized Brockdorff as "the greatest diplomat" are now applying the same term to the German Foreign Minister.

MAKE SIGNING EASIER.

The situation here today is exactly as follows:

1—The economic experts of France and the United States have recommended changes in the economic demands of the treaty as originally presented, which will make it possible not only for Germany to meet the economic demands, but also the demands regarding reparations.

2—The German delegates have received an extension of time until May 26 for consideration of the treaty and have completed criticism of the treaty.

3—It is considered certain that at least a third of the present German peace-delegation will be present before Germany signs the treaty.

4—When the present time limit expires one week from today only forty-eight hours will be required by the allied and associated powers to consider the final suggestions.

5—The Germans realize the danger in Germany of further delay, are certain to accept the treaty, inasmuch as modifications now under consideration are designed to meet their own point of view.

Without actually repudiating all, the allies are making the terms easier of acceptance.

AUSTRIAN TERMS MONDAY.

The extension of time granted the German delegation will not delay the signing of peace more than a few days. It is understood that the allies and the United States will issue their terms within a day or two.

The extension granted Germany is in no way affected by the negotiations with Austria. The Austrians will receive their peace terms from the allies next Monday, and it is expected that they will sign before the end of next week. It is understood that they will not delay as much time to deliberate as was granted the Germans. The indications are that both treaties will be signed only a few days apart.

PRINCE TO BE GUEST OF U.S. ON VISIT

By International News Service.

London, May 22.—The Prince of Wales will be the guest of the American nation when he visits the United States, it was learned today.

The youthful heir to the British throne is keenly interested in America and will not confine his trip to New York and Washington, but will visit a number of the largest cities.

The Prince has endeavored himself to the Americans by his democratic democracy, and when he visited headquarters of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine he enjoyed dances with a number of American Red Cross nurses.

Since the armistice was signed the Prince has been in the public eye on a great deal. He attended the London Sports Club for the first time recently and enjoyed a rattling good hunt.

Later he went for a flight in an airplane and has now taken up aviation seriously. He is being taught to fly by Lieutenant Ceyron, who was special instructor of the British Air Corps during the war.

The Prince is fond of lively dancing and enjoys the life of the city, and the music that accompanies them.

BRITISH TROOPS WIN FIGHT IN AFGHANISTAN

New Revolt Quelled in Battle of Heights West of Dacca

London, May 22.—(By British government wireless).—Heavy fighting between eight battalions of Indian Afghani troops and local British forces was reported by the government today.

Hostilities centered around Dacca, but the general officers commanding the First Indian Division reported in a message dated May 18th that the "situation is now very satisfactory."

The revolutionists attacked first on the night of May 16th, supported by guns. They were driven off and four guns were captured. The casualties of the loyal troops were not above 150.

On the 17th the First Indian Brigade (loyal troops), with the cooperation of airplanes, attacked the enemy in the hills west of Dacca, and the heights were taken by storm. The loyalist casualties in this engagement have not yet been reported. Over 100 enemy dead had been counted when the dispatch describing this action was filed.

Loyal soldiers now hold the hills west of Dacca, and Sherabad and Lutal, two miles west of Dacca, have been occupied. The success of the loyal troops is said to have had a most beneficial effect upon the tribes.

Wilson and Allied Leaders Reach Decision on Ukrainian Problem

By International News Service.

Paris, May 22.—President Wilson and the allied leaders have reached a decision on the perplexing Ukrainian problem and will issue a statement within a short time, it was learned today.

Whether this decision concerns Russia, so far as the peace conference is concerned, or the civil claims of the Poles and Ukrainians is not yet known. The main Ukrainian delegation is expected to leave Paris today for London.

Reports reaching Paris show that the Poles, despite the recommendation of the peace conference, are determined to make war on the Ukrainians. The supreme allied economic commission has raised the question as to whether they should continue to give aid to Poland which has ignored the mandate of the allies.

A million Ukrainians in America are awaiting the outcome of the controversy. Congressman James A. Hanrott of Jersey City is understood to be preparing an appeal to President Wilson. The main Ukrainian delegation is expected to leave Paris today for London.

U. S. Army Ready to Advance Into Heart of Germany if Foe Refuses to Sign Treaty

By International News Service.

Washington, May 22.—The American Army of Occupation, now comprising about 200,000 men, is ready to begin an advance into the heart of Germany at any moment if the German refusal to sign the peace treaty and military pressure become necessary.

In the first fifty miles of their march they would meet with little opposition, officials said today, since there are now no German combat troops within this area.

When they finally came into contact with German forces at the end of a four or five day advance they would have little trouble disposing of any units the Germans might send against them and with comparatively small casualties.

The American divisions now resting on the Rhine are veteran units that have seen much service and are well equipped. They are the disorganized German forces probably would have to fall back immediately.

Prussians Lay Plans for "Revenge War" Within 15 Years

By HENRY ORPHAL.

(Washington Cable by London Special Service and the Eastern Daily Express.)

Berlin, May 22.—While the Germans are trying to decide whether to sign, it is well for the Entente to know that Prussian militarism is not dead. Old army officers are freely brooding "revenge" and enervating of our lost provinces within fifteen years.

The government is spending more than two million monthly to bring up volunteer regiments, but it does not ignore the military spirit which is abroad in the German land.

If the Allies refuse the German counter-proposal the Ebert government will resign, but the National Assembly will not favor resistance unless the growing nationalist spirit forces its hand.

ANOTHER TAKEN IN VERMONT MYSTERY

Barre, Vt., May 22.—When it was learned here today that Irving H. Smith had been arrested in Leominster, Mass., as a material witness in the Broadwell murder case it was believed that the police had made, in his arrest, the complete clean-up promised in the mystery.

Smith was arrested while attending a carnival in the old Leominster trotting park. Police Inspector McCarthy of that city made the arrest and the witness was turned over to Sheriff Lawson of Barre, and a Boston detective who has been working on the case.

No charge is lodged against Smith, according to State's Attorney Davis. He is merely for his testimony.

which is believed to be important. Smith is an ex-Canadian soldier. It is said that he was in Paris on May 7, the night when Mrs. Harry E. Broadwell was murdered, and that he saw the mysterious automobile which has figured so prominently in the case.

Long, a lodger in her home on South Main street, have been charged with the murder, which is alleged to have been committed in Mrs. Parker's home.

For the past few days the police have intimated that the development of one more move by them, if successful, would "elucidate" the case that they have been working up against Mrs. Parker and Long. Although their dragnet had already reached out to Holyoke, Mass., and brought in two other witnesses who were alleged to have been at the Parker home on the night of May 3, no hint

Smith is the seventh person now said to have been at or near the South Main street home on the night that the young Barre mother was murdered and her nude body placed in the street.

The Wheelock garden in the centre of the city on the morning of Sunday, May 2 last. The others are Mrs. Parker, George Long, Gertrude Hunt, Mrs. Rose Pelkey, (Gabriel) Bianchi and Francisco Martinez.

Mrs. Pelkey is under sentence of two years for a statutory offence with Martinez, while the latter is being held. Gertrude Hunt is released on her own recognizance and Bianchi is held. It was Gertrude Hunt who came forward voluntarily with the evidence that directed suspicion toward the Parker home where she swore she saw Mrs. Broad.

NEWIFICATION LANS LAD BY SUFFRAGISTS

Bay State Women Working to Secure Favorable Action
by the Legislature

Plans to insure the ratification by the Massachusetts Legislature of the proposed federal woman's suffrage amendment were laid today by members of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association at their annual convention at No. 125 Boston street.

The sum of $200 was appropriated to establish immediately organizations in Fall River and New Bedford for the purpose of creating favorable public sentiment which would draw representatives and senators from these cities into line with the movement. Other centers will be established as rapidly as the means of the association will permit.

Posters to be tied to private shade trees and fences throughout the State were provided for by another vote. The legend upon such placards will be to the effect that a careful canvass of the women of the State shows that women numbering 86 per cent of the registered male vote at the last presidential election in Massachusetts are in favor of the extension of suffrage to women.

MRS. BIRD'S SUGGESTION.
Following a statement by Theresa A. Crowley, urging that the association go on record as favoring the extension of compulsory education of children obliged to seek employment, the meeting voted to induce all educational bills, especially the bill favoring physical education in the schools.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird recommended the enactment of law providing for statewide educational conferences to teach citizenship to all residents of Massachusetts.

"Polls flow out of the faucet in the kitchen sink and is brought into the house with the morning milk bottle," declared Mrs. True Worthington White of Arlington, before the 20th delegates.

Mrs. White is chairman of the committee on citizenship and read a report on that subject at the morning session. She outlined the formation of a corps of speakers and teachers and told of their work throughout the State in the interest of the movement.

"The advance of government control had invaded the home, where government formerly merely protected the home, and the law had been put into every act of the modern housewife," declared Mrs. White.

"The function of government already affects the price of nearly every article of consumption in the home, and women are compelled to take an interest in government whether they are so inclined or not."

A high honor to the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association was announced in the elevation to chairman of the national committee of the organization of the League of Women Voters of Mrs. Frederick P. Hagley of

Suffrage Advocates Pay Tribute to Hearst Papers

Washington, May 22.—In rejoicing over the passage of the woman suffrage resolution by the House the suffrage advocates paid high tribute to the Hearst newspapers for the aid they have rendered the cause.

"I think the Hearst newspapers in half a dozen large cities of the United States have had great influence in favor of woman suffrage," said Champ Clark, Democratic leader in the House. "With their wide circulation and the great space and effort they have devoted to the presentation of the subject to the people they were bound to have had great influence."

Another expression of appreciation of the efforts of the Hearst newspapers came from Representative Baile of California, chairman of the woman suffrage committee in the last House and joint author with Representative Mann of Illinois, of the resolution. He said:

"I have been reading the Hearst papers in Washington and at home in California. They have been loyal to the suffrage cause and have materially assisted in the task of securing favorable action in Congress."

"I have been deeply interested in the suffrage subject and have found the Hearst editorials very helpful."

WAR PRICES WILL BE MAINTAINED IN FUTURE
According to opinions expressed in New York and in fact, all over the country, business men with few exceptions seem to expect commodity prices to remain on the high level established in war time even after the readjustment of trade conditions has been brought about by peace.

The Federal Reserve Board keeps in touch with business conditions throughout the country, and in the May bulletin it is said: "What is now happening seems to indicate that business will after a period of initial readjustment, in prices, proceed upon a level not far removed from that established during the war."

G. O. P. TO CATER TO WOMEN, SAYS HAYS

Will Have Full Equality With Men, Declares National Committee Head

By International News Service.
Washington, May 22.—"Women are entitled to participate in the affairs of the Republican party on full equality with men," Republican National Chairman Will H. Hays declared at a notable gathering here today of prominent women, including wives of Republican senators and representatives, and under the auspices of the Republican Women's national executive committee.

Following the steady passage of the national woman suffrage amendment yesterday to the Republican-controlled House, the declaration of Hays, the chairman of the Republican party, was construed as another indication that the cause of votes for women would also triumph soon in the Republican-dominated Senate.

Between offering assurances to American women that the Republican party welcomed them as "units in the party membership," and being engaged in something not the different women, like Progressives and Old Guard Republican senators over the choice of Senator Pearson of Pennsylvania for chairman of the Senate floor committee, the Republican national chairman was kept on the jump as he kept in close touch with the capital on one hand and the women's gathering on the other.

In his address, Hays said that the women are not to be given secondary consideration, but that full consideration due all other individuals will not be distinctively organized, but amalgamated.

One of the leaders at the gathering was Mrs. Mollie McCormick, wife of the Illinois Senator and daughter of the late Mark Hanna, one-time Republican "boss." Mrs. McCormick will preside at a banquet tonight which is to be addressed by Chairman Hays, Senator Crampton, president of the House and other Republican leaders.

In announcing to the assembled women that their sex would be given full equality of consideration by the Republican party, Hays said also that the Republican women of the country are to be a part of the party membership.

frees your home from germs

WITH the approach of warmer weather the careful housewife becomes impatient to clean house from roof to cellar. This year the work will be easier and the result more satisfying because Kempure (the Universal Disinfectant) has come to help.

Ordinary soap and water will make your home "dirt free," but the Kempure Way makes it all that and "germ free" besides—real health protection.

Cleaning the Kempure Way is easy, efficient and economical—three tablespoonsful to a bucket of water makes a household solution, four to six times stronger than a carbolic, safe as soap-suds and economical besides. Above all, it makes your home "clean as a hospital," and the cleaner your home the better your health.

NEW BILLS OF LADING TO COST MILLIONS

Merchants and Manufacturers Face Big Expense Under Order Demanding Revised Forms

Extensive changes in bills of lading forms will cost merchants and manufacturers the country over millions of dollars in printing bills if the Interstate Commerce Commission adheres to its order that the new forms must be in use on or before August 1.

The changes are intended to benefit the shipper and the receiver of goods and to remove conditions of shipping by rail and water to which both have objected for years. Present bills of lading will be used after the above date.

It will be a physical impossibility for merchants or manufacturers to get new bills of lading printed in less than six to eight months, even if every printer throughout the United States is engaged on the task, as official in a concern which makes a business of supplying these forms declared today.

FIVE YEARS SUPPLY ON HAND. And the loss will run up into millions if these concerns are compelled to throw away their present forms, because most business houses have from a year to five years' supply on hand at present.

The order of the Interstate Commerce Commission declares that the old bills cannot be used after August 1 as the provisions and regulations of the present bills of lading are inconsistent with those of the new forms ordered.

At the offices of the United States Railroad Administration on Franklin street it was stated that little is known of the new forms, and officials of the Boston & Albany Railroad said they had not had time to digest the decision of the commission.

REGULATIONS "UNJUST." The commission declared that common carriers have been enforcing rules and regulations which are "unjust, unreasonable, or otherwise in violation of certain provisions of the law" relating to bills of lading.

One effect of the changes will be to compel railroads to pay the value on lost merchandise at the point where it would be received, rather than the place from where it was shipped, as they have been paying it for some years past.

Boston merchants interviewed today expressed the hope that the new forms would not compel the use of the amended forms after thirty days' notice, as provided for, but would allow the use of the old forms until the words "subject to the new conditions under this date" are used when bills of lading were made uniform.

Fitchburg, May 22.—Miss Anna Craig, superintendent of nurses at Burdick Hospital, will conclude her duties at the institution on June 1, to go to China, where she will have charge of a training school for nurses. She will accompany Dr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Chicago, who return for their seventh year there.

Miss Craig will sail from Vancouver August 2. She will locate in the vicinity of Peking, in the vicinity of the training school at Tientsin. She goes under appointment of the board of missions of the Congregational church, but her work will be under the Chinese government.

17 U. S. TENEMENTS ARE READY AT NEWPORT. Newport, R. I., May 22.—Seventeen of the tenements of the United States Housing Corporation project, or it is officially known, the Town of Newport, were ready for occupancy today. They will be immediately occupied by those who have been waiting. The absence of electric lighting in all that has kept the houses from being accepted.

Motor Truck Tire Men of New England in Convention. By C. F. Goodrich. The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company held a convention of the Goodrich Motor Truck Tire distributors of New England at the hotel ballrooms this week. Branch Manager Fred Moore and Truck Tire Salesman Harry Krimmel were in charge of the affair. Executives from the factory at Akron were present.

E. C. Tibbels, advertising manager of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, talked on advertising and told the assembly of the plans of the company for the next year. Other speakers during the convention were Mr. Y. Norton, manager of the truck tire sales for the United States, H. H. Easer, his assistant, A. H. Leavitt, manager of the pneumatic truck tire sales at Akron, and E. J. Hughes, manager of the sales personnel.

After the morning session, Tuesday a special lunch prepared by the girls of the Boston branch organization was enjoyed in the ballroom at the convention dinner was held at the Copley-Place Hotel, where the party went to the Boston Opera House, where Al Jolson paid his respects to Goodrich.

Motor truck owners of New England will greatly benefit from this conference, as the very latest and best information regarding motor truck tires was very forcibly explained to the distributors, so that the owner of a truck may receive the full value and experience of both the Goodrich organization and its distributors, as they are fully equipped to give service in all the large cities of New England.

WOUNDED HERO TURNS NEWSBOY TO SUPPORT INVALID FATHER

Carl B. Carter, at his newsstand at Milk and Federal streets.

Carl B. Carter, Yankee soldier and hero of the great war, now sells newspapers at the corner of Milk and Federal street, almost in the shadow of our historic old South Church of Revolutionary fame.

He does this to make his living again in the world which he helped make safe for you and for us all.

He does it, too, in support of his invalid father, now under treatment in the Marine State Hospital for a dislocated shoulder.

Carl's heroic actions Wounded now, he returned to the fight as soon as he was able. Wounded a second time, he returned again to the field. Finally incapacitated through a fall, he received his discharge.

This newsboy here wears the coveted cord of the Legion of Honor, the highest honor awarded by the French government for military daring.

NEVER FORGOT "OLD FOLKS." Carter takes a solitary view of affairs. He said today: "Selling papers isn't quite as exciting as some of the things I've been through. But it is mighty interesting, though, to meet all kinds of people, the way you do running a newsstand."

"Business is good, considering that I have just started. But I lost a customer to what I will be when I get going good."

Carl is a native of Maine and 23 years old. He has always been a self-reliant chap and one who held his "old folks" in mind. Being leaving home at the age of 14, he regularly sent money to his parents.

He enlisted on June 1, 1917, in the Company of the 14th Infantry of the First Division. He was sent to France, N. Y. While he was training he received word of the death of his mother.

He called overseas on November 23, 1917. He had a few weeks in the training area.

He went "over the top" the first time on January 25, 1918, in the "last stand." On the second day he received his first wound. A shell splinter in the left hand. He was in a hospital six weeks.

STUPPERS SECOND WOUND. On July 17 he rejoined his regiment on the Marne front. Only three days elapsed before Carter received his second wound. A bullet hit him in the left arm at Chantilly. Back to a hospital again until August 9.

It looked as though Carter would be forced out on account of inability to do his duty. But he was not through serving his flag yet. He began training as a battalion runner. While receiving instructions in this hazardous duty he collided with another runner, fell down an embankment and injured one of his legs so that further war service for him was out of the question. He was sent home last January.

RETURNED PASTOR REMAINS SILENT. Central Falls, R. I., May 22.—The Rev. Ernest Weber, local St. a week clergyman, who disappeared for more than a week and then returned home, has avoided himself in his room and refuses to see anybody.

Even his wife does not know how or why he went away. A committee of his church, it is understood, is endeavoring to give him an extended vacation, believing that overwork may have affected his mind.

'LOST' GIRL IS NOW HAPPY BRIDE

Glady's Nason, Who Left Home Mysteriously, Weds Brooklyn Man

Miss Gladys Nason, the eighteen-year-old Brooklyn girl who disappeared from her home a week ago and later was found in the Black Sea, is a bride.

She was married at her home, No. 15 Davis avenue, to Irvin P. Wilson, nineteen years old, of No. 104 Madison street, Brooklyn, a former merchant in the Aviation Corps, by the Rev. J. C. Church, Brooklyn.

The couple had planned to elope through a misunderstanding of the parents. But the girl's father, Mr. Nason, who is a well-known merchant in the Black Sea, had learned of the girl's disappearance and was able to locate her in the Black Sea.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOYS SHOW SKILL AT EXHIBIT

The first general exhibit of the National Shop and Academic work done by boys of the Boston Grammar schools whose ages range from twelve to sixteen years, is being shown at the High School of Commerce. It will continue until Friday of this week, at which time there will be a special program in the afternoon.

The exhibit includes both correlated and uncorrelated work and the above positions of bookbinding, electrical wiring, carpentry, machine shop, painting, plumbing, and metal work and woodworking. Albert Pringle, director of the National Shop, has been in charge of the exhibit. He has been selected to the position of his home, at a total cost of $10.

BRESLIN IS HEAD OF LEGION IN MALDEN. First Lieutenant J. D. Breslin, the winner of three war medals, among which was the Legion of Honor medal, was elected a captain in the Legion of Honor in the Malden Legion. He was elected commander of the Malden Legion of the American Legion, Malden, at a meeting held in the city hall on Wednesday.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

YOU know the real human doctors right around in your neighborhood: the doctors made of flesh and blood just like you: the doctors with souls and hearts: those men who are responding to your call in the dead of night as readily as in the broad daylight; they are ready to tell you the good that Fletcher's Castoria has done, is doing and will do, from their experience and their love for children.

Fletcher's Castoria is nothing new. We are not asking you to try an experiment. We just want to impress upon you the importance of buying Fletcher's. Your physician will tell you this, as he knows there are a number of imitations on the market, and he is particularly interested in the welfare of your baby.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Do the People Know? Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

STRUCKER LAD AWAITED BY 2 MOTHERS

Each New York Woman Believes Soldier With Blank Mind Is Her Son

New York, May 22.—Two women in a luxurious apartment on Central Park West, and a wintered cottage in Flushing, await the return of a slender, dark-skinned soldier in France, who has lost all memory of his past. And two mothers, who long ago have and high hopes, are feverishly waiting for the ship that will bring him home.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm J. MacLeod believe that at last their boy, Henry Blakely MacLeod, who disappeared from camp March 22, 1918, without word ever being heard of him, is coming back to them.

Mrs. Roland E. Phillips, who long since has resigned herself to the report of her son's death in France, is vigorously expecting that maybe, after all, there was a mistake and that young Malcolm still lives.

The two mothers told of their eagerness for the return of the boy, who never he may be, Mrs. MacLeod said.

All we know is that a young American soldier was picked up in Paris, his memory entirely blank. He would tell us that his name was Henry Blakely MacLeod, and that he was the son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. MacLeod, who lived in the Bronx.

The first real news we have had today from a friend of the MacLeods, who had known Blakely for quite some time, she told us that he had been seen in France, but she was not sure the young soldier was his son, but she feared to write to give hope to us.

She said the face was entirely blank, and of course, with expression gone it would be hard to establish a positive identity.

When we first saw the telegram from the army, signed "Bernard," and saying that either Roland Phillips or Blakely MacLeod had been found in Paris and would be sent home at once, we immediately sought the parents of the Phillips boy. The War Department told us it had only Roland Phillips, and that he was from Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Phillips, whose husband, Major Roland E. Phillips, joined the overseas forces of the Red Cross soon after news of their boy's death reached him, now is skeptical. He has been notified by cable from home that there is a man claiming to be the son of the Phillips boy in the Paris hospital in his son, and Mrs. Phillips is waiting for news of his fate and a positive identity.

WAIT IN VAIN FOR SALARY WHICH 'DOCTOR' FAILED TO PAY

Typist quartet whose jobs were "too good to last." Left to right, Miss Marion Quinlan of Reading, Miss Alice Gordon of Charlestown, Miss Helen Lord of Reading and Miss Marjorie Chalk of Revere.

Five badly deceived stenographers employed by Dr. A. C. Dawson, proprietor of the "League of American Patriots, Inc." and the "National Touring Club of America," today waited in vain for wages due them, following the flight of their former employer.

The girls, who are being sought by Federal authorities, "Numerous creditors of the 'League' have filed attachments on the property situated in room 126 7-A and 3 of the Walker Building, No. 126 Boston street.

The girls are wondering where they stand and today planned to secure legal advice to assist them in collecting their wages.

"Dr. Dawson's schemes, which resulted in the alleged deception of hundreds of New Englanders, grow hourly more apparent. The office forces are not the only sufferers.

NEW CREDITORS FILE IT. Several new creditors turned up today at the former headquarters of the "League," including Alberto, known indebtedness of the two miss-

HUB TEACHERS SEEK UNION CHARTER

Resign from Local 66 at Meeting to Join American Federation

The American Federation of Teachers was petitioned to grant a charter to the women school teachers of Boston at a meeting of the unit women in the Twentieth Century Club. At the same time the signers of the petition resigned from Local 66 of the Teachers Federation of Greater Boston.

This was the second of two meetings of Boston school teachers called to discuss unionizing. At the first meeting held at Tremont Temple late in the afternoon, Miss Cora Higelow, president of the Boston Teachers

Club, in reviewing the history of the union movement here, made it clear that no pressure of any kind was to be exerted upon Boston teachers in connection with unionizing. Whether the teachers broke away from Local 66, she said, was entirely their own personal affair.

Miss Higelow declared that the time was now ripe for unionization. She denounced rumors of Socialist influences behind the union movement as libelous and said that the position to unionize was not directed at the union but simply expressed feelings of distrust in it.

Dr. Charles W. Parmenter, headmaster of Mechanic Arts High School, stated that he was not as nearly convinced that this was the right time for forming a union. He asserted that from the economic point of view the most fundamental problem for Boston to follow was a course of action for arousing public sentiment to the approval of vastly increased taxation for the public schools.

Speaking again at the Twentieth Century Club meeting, Miss Higelow gave assurance that no ill-feeling would result from the resignation from Local 66 to join the proposed new union. The Boston Teachers Club was not represented in the movement, she said.

WOULD DENY U. S. AMITY TO JEW-HATING NATIONS

Washington, May 22.—Reported persecution and massacre of Jews in some of the newly created free governments of Europe are condoned in a resolution introduced in the House by Representative La Guardia of New York.

The resolution instructs the American peace delegates to communicate to the representatives of these countries that any new government "which will not guarantee freedom of religion and the equal protection of law and privilege to all, regardless of race and religion, cannot expect the friendship and assistance of the United States of America."

WHISKEY INTERESTS
SHATTERED IN CANADA
Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—Hopes by the whiskey interests that wartime prohibition would be lifted in Canada were shattered when the government's bill confirming the country-wide temperance measure enacted by order in council early in 1918 was approved unanimously by the House of Commons.

Vose Player Piano

The fundamental element in the success of this advanced player is "Vose Tone."

The result of nearly three-quarters of a century of scientific tone cultivation by one family—the House of Vose.

Compared with other players, the instantly apparent difference in favor of the Vose instrument is its beautiful tone—so pleasing to one who appreciates tone quality.

Vose patents, covering improvements in tone-producing features, give to Vose Players a positive superiority. Terms.

27,000 TROOPS AT NEW YORK AS FOG LIFTS

Five Ships Held Off Coast Proceeded to Port; Welcome by General Wood

By International News Service.
New York, May 22.—More than 27,000 returning American soldiers were held in quarantine today when the fog, which hung over the coast, prevented transport and release to the city. The soldiers were held on five ships which had been held off the coast since the fog had lifted. The soldiers were held on the ships because the fog had prevented the transport ships from coming to the coast. Who's Who in the 26th Division

Colonel Richard K. Hale, who recently returned to this country as chief of staff of the 26th Division, went to France as lieutenant colonel of the 101st Regiment Field Artillery. Since his return home he has been seriously ill from pneumonia. His home is at No. 128 Chestnut Hill avenue, Brookline, where he lives with his mother. Colonel Hale was born in Boston thirty-nine years ago, is a civil engineer in private life and graduated from Harvard University (1902) and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (1904).

COLONEL RICHARD K. HALE

He enlisted in Battery A, Field Artillery, M. V. M. (then known as Battery A, Light Artillery, November 24, 1902, and served in that capacity until October 22, 1908, when he was elected first lieutenant. He was rapidly promoted and at the time of the call of the National Guard for Federal service, August 5, 1917, held the rank of lieutenant colonel in the First Regiment, Field Artillery. During the Mexican border fracas in 1916 he performed duty there as major.

Soon after going to France he was sent to the Army General Staff College at Langres, being in the first class entered. In February, 1918, he replaced the 101st Field Artillery and participated in its fighting at Chemin des Dames and Soissons. After a few weeks he was detached. He was with the general staff of several army corps later and also served as instructor in the Artillery School at Coquilhat, France.

Most of his service was on the British front under General Reed. In January, 1919, he was assigned to the American Expeditionary Force.

the grocer pays a little more for Domino Granulated Sugar

Domino Granulated is a quality sugar. Coming packaged it saves the grocer loss in weighing, wrapping and tying—saves the waste of paper wrapping broken in delivery.

And if the grocer sells Domino Cane Sugars for the same price at which he sold loose sugar, the reason is that Domino is as economical to him as it is to you.

THIS is the anniversary of the offer by Cuba, in 1889, of $100,000,000 to Spain for its independence. The offer was refused and Spain finally lost Cuba in the war of 1898, in which she also lost her fleet and the Philippine Islands to the United States. Cuba gained her independence at our hands.

easy to make! All you do is to add sugar, a pinch of salt or fresh or condensed and beat for five minutes. When it has cooled, you have a rich creamy dessert, chocolate blanc meringue, or a rich vanilla custard.

You're sure to find your favorite flavor—Chocolate, rose vanilla, cream vanilla, or lemon—the flavor you like best. And you can give the youngsters all they want—Pudding is light and nourishing.

A 15c package will serve 15 people. And you can use as much or as little Pudding as you want. You need not use the full box. Pudding will keep.

Use Pudding for cake and pie fillings, and for smooth, velvety ice cream.

THE BEST TONIC SO FAR DISCOVERED

By Beatrice Fairfax

There was a time when the word "gay" was used to describe a person who was happy or carefree. It was a word that was used to describe a person who was not serious or who was not taking life too seriously. It was a word that was used to describe a person who was not concerned with the opinions of others or who was not worried about what people thought of them. It was a word that was used to describe a person who was not afraid to be different or who was not afraid to be who they really were. It was a word that was used to describe a person who was not afraid to be gay.

The man was silent long enough

"In these days nobody says objects," she said quickly. "He here at four?"

He drove away, his mind full of speculation. Was this the girl who had been Aunt Jeanne's favorite? He had hoped that Mrs. Tupper would be the one to visit him, whom he had met at the address of Aunt Sylvia. Would he find her companion by her side? Instead, Mrs. Tupper had

Here's A Gentle Laxative For Elderly People

A daily free movement of the bowels becomes a serious problem as you step from middle-life into old age, and much dependence can no longer be placed on nature herself. The bowels find artificial aid necessary.

The stronger the physic, as old people soon learn, the greater the contraction of the bowels thereafter, and so the wise purposely avoid salt waters, pills and other harsh purgatives. Many have learned to place absolute reliance on the gentle but positive action of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It produces an agreeable movement as nearly natural and free as high pharmaceutical skill can make it. Thousands use it regularly, in the small dose prescribed, and keep themselves in fine health and good cheer, and entirely free from constipation.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and labor saving, we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold for many years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

Control the Landlords and Protect Tenants

Let the Legislature Name a Commission to Prevent Monopoly and Secure Justice.

Governor Coolidge has sent a message to the Legislature calling attention to the practice by some landlords of demanding an increase of rent from tenants or an immediate vacating of their house without reasonable time in which to obtain another house and to remove their furniture.

The Governor recommends that the time be extended in which tenants are to find another place to occupy and to remove their furniture, if they are unwilling to pay the increased rent.

This message comes none too soon. Nor will its recommendations, if adopted, relieve completely the great hardships of the tenant class in this State. Not only is the practice of giving a short notice to quit—in case the demand for an increase of rent is not met—an injustice, now frequently practiced by landlords, but the size of the increase of rent demanded is an even greater injustice.

The short notice to remove in case the tenant can, but will not, pay the increased rent is a trick to stampede him or her into agreeing to pay. The usual agreement involves the signing of a long-term lease at the increased price. The tenant is struck with dismay at the time given to him to remove; his judgment is over-balanced and in fright and confusion he too often signs an agreement to pay a rental which is downright extortion.

Of course, the cost of living affects the landlord as well as the tenant. The fall in the value of a dollar means as much to the landlord as to the tenant. But the landlord has been for years gradually increasing his rent to meet this situation, and the present demands for higher rentals is not so much due to the increased cost of living and the decreased value of a dollar as to the scarcity of houses, because during the war and since building construction has been held in abeyance.

The recent great epidemic in the increase of rents is an attempt largely to exploit the monopoly values out of real estate. Nothing will aid the propagation of the single tax theory so much as this short-sighted and extortionate practice by certain of the landlord class.

The American suggests to the Governor and to the Legislature the immediate creation of a commission which shall correct these pressing grievances of the tenants of Massachusetts. A commission could easily require landlords to file with it every proposed increase of rents, and it could require tenants to report any increases proposed to them.

The commission could be directed by statute to forbid any increase of rents which was not justified by the increase in the cost of living—or what is much the same thing at the present time, the decrease in the value of the dollar.

There is not, never was, and never will be, any justice in permitting a monopolist in real estate to exact a monopoly value from the community. Not one cent of increase of rent ought to be allowed any of our landlords on account of the scarcity of houses and buildings due to war conditions.

It is a kind of cold-blooded, ghoul-like profiteering—the coining of money out of the flesh and blood of the nation at war. It ought not to be tolerated a moment.

Soldiers Should Now Make Democracy Safe Here

Senator John J. Walsh of Massachusetts, speaking at a reception and testimonial to our soldiers of the Church of St. Mary of the Angels at Catholic Union Hall in Boston, gave the American soldiers some splendid advice.

If they can take this advice understandingly and fight to make democracy safe in America, where it is by no means safe yet, the war would be worth all its cost.

Senator Walsh said:

Your service to America is not ended. We have need of your further devotion, your sense of obedience to law, your resolute courage in routing the hordes of greed and anarchy that threaten our institutions if allowed to start upon their mad course of plunder and rapine.

We need your informed judgment in our political life to establish and maintain order of merit in official preferment, to uproot the injustice that breeds industrial unrest, to quell the riot of race prejudice and religious bigotry.

We have great need of you to loosen the grip of monopoly on the necessities of life; to destroy the rapacity of the profiteers of every kind, whose noblest purpose seems to be the exploitation of humans. You have made the world safe for democracy. It remains for you to make democracy safe for America.

By K. C. B.

DEAR K. C. B.—I enjoy your column very much, and those who do not are lacking not only in a sense of humor but of the appreciation.

I said recently in a number of my family: "I'll venture that K. C. B. is a fine man. His articles are high voiced, dignified and tongueless the gentleman." And then, but a day or two later, you stopped on the toes of many of us women folk who have reached the three-score mark, yet, despite that fact, are not obviously aged, neither are we bent—and many of us not a little gray.

For myself, I am three years past sixty, am an active member of three women's clubs, and, as a member of my family condescendingly remarks, "have young ideas."

Therefore, dear K. C. B., please say you didn't mean the implication of the article referred to, or that your printer made you say "sixty" when you really wrote "seventy."

Columbia road, Dorchester.

DEAR DORCHESTER LADY,

I WISH I might say.

IT WAS the printer's fault.

AND GO you two better.

AND SAY it was "ninety."

THAT I really wrote.

AND THAT in some way.

THE POOR printer man.

TURNED it upside down.

AND MADE it a six.

BUT THAT wouldn't be fair.

FOR I really wrote sixty.

AND THAT was the age.

OF THE little woman.

WHO came to my house.

TO DO general work.

AND WHO stayed long enough.

JUST TO let us know.

THAT it wasn't the years.

THAT had brought her old age.

AND HAD turned her hair.

PAST A "little gray."

FOR FROM what she said.

I HAVE an idea.

SHE'D STILL be young.

IF IT hadn't been.

THAT BACK somewhere.

IN HER earlier days.

SHE HAD builded her hopes.

ON A couple of boys.

FOR WHOM she had toiled.

THROUGH THEIR boyhood.

AND THEIR youthful days.

AND HAD made them men.

IF YEARS make men.

AND HAD seen them go out.

AND INTO the world.

AND HAD seen them forget.

THAT THE strength they had.

WAS THEIR mother's strength.

AND THE debt they owed.

WAS A God-made debt.

AND THAT'S how it happened.

SHE COULDN'T have stayed.

WHEN SHE came to us.

UNLESS SHE had stayed.

AS A mother might stay.

AND SHE couldn't do that.

AND JUST in conclusion.

I'D LIKE to know.

THAT HER sons might know.

WE HAD paid two dollars.

TO HAVE their mother.

SENT OUT to us.

AS A servant girl.

AND DEAR Dorchester Lady.

OF COURSE I know.

THAT A woman of sixty.

WITHOUT ANY griefs.

IS JUST in her prime.

I THANK YOU

HUMAN SHOCK ABSORBER

"Sam" Ripley of Martha's Vineyard, who holds the world's record for trips across Buzzard's Bay, has retired on a pension. He was clerk, nurse and ticket collector for forty-five years for the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard & Nantucket steamboat line. He was a champion shock absorber, too. As a nurse for thirty-three years of his long service he received the inevitable complaints of passengers incidental to a nurse's life.

A QUESTIONNAIRE FOR YOURSELF

One frequently speaks of how distasteful this one or that one is to us, but do we often consider the effect our own personality may have in return?

Be honest and analyze yourself in the light of another person. Then are you not surprised when you see the peculiar traits and mannerisms you yourself exhibit?

How many times do you find yourself bragging of your accomplishments?

How often do you try to force your ideas and opinions on other people?

Watch yourself moving about nervously in your chair, indicating that you are bored, or that your chair is uncomfortable, or that you are anxious for other surroundings, and more congenial.

Are you not only vulgar, but do you not try to monopolize the conversation?

How about talking about your own children as if they were superior to all others?

As a matter of fact, can't you see that you are as disagreeable to some others as certain ones are to you?

Then why be so critical?

One reason why North Dakota has gone into the banking business is because the North Dakota farmer cannot see why he should pay a private banker 10 per cent. interest when the State could borrow money at 4 to 5 per cent. and loan it at 8. There may be other reasons, but this is enough.

North Dakota will gladly mill its own flour so long as the people put up the dough.

ROYAL GUEST AT WALDORF BANQUET TABLE

But This "Majesty" Was Only a Famous Prize Jersey Bull

HIS dined at the Waldorf!

Had a table in the midst of the banquet hall, where 500 guests had assembled to pay him homage!

At from huge silver platters dishes concocted by the famous Oscar, maître d'hôtel!

Oh, but you may say—what was there so unusual about that? No—the size of the platters?

Not this honor guest of "some of our best people" was only—a prize Jersey bull; the finest ever bred! And it was the exhibitors at the National Milk Show, members of the American Jersey Cattle Club, who fed him. "Financial Sensation" is his name—and it is a good name, too, for he is worth a mint of money.

Just how "Financial Sensation" was dined—and wind—was one of the remarkable stories told in next Sunday's Sunday Advertiser and American.

"Herbert beheld Mabel with mixed feelings of joy and pain." Can't be done, says Science, Schenck—represented by Professor Paul Thomas Young, Ph. D., of the Psychological Laboratory of Cornell—has just been making some interesting experiments along this line which establish the fact that one can't have mixed feelings—one kind of emotion may succeed another instantaneously, but there is no "mixture"; they are separate and distinct emotions.

England's greatest beauty is engaged at last! Lady Diana Manners, daughter of one of England's proudest peers, the Duke of Rutland, and descendant of that capricious beauty whom she resembles, Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall, has played havoc with the hearts of men since her debutante days.

She is probably the most photographed woman in the world, and during the war supported a hospital and its hard-working staff, which she headed, by the sale of her photographs.

Chorus girls are not always sophisticated. Sometimes—like Mrs. Thomas L. Reynolds—they are fresh from the country and totally ignorant of the wiles of the world. So she was pathetically deceived into marrying a disreputable gambler, believing him to be a multimillionaire, diplomat and a member of the aristocracy in England. She tells her own story, as a warning to other girls, next Sunday.

Moonlight evening gowns and wraps, says Lady Duff-Gordon ("Lucile")—a pageant in next Sunday's paper—were designed with one eye on the placid orb. You may copy them, and look your loveliest in the Summer moonlight!

Another lovely Clive painting—this time "A Peach Basket," in full colors. Guess what kind of peach is in this basket!

And speaking of pictures—"Father" tries making a few "shadow" pictures—and has to sleep on the roof! "Boo!" and the famous Shenanigans have a lot of laughs for you, too.

To the Editor

Editor Boston American:

A Strike That Failed

Labor strikes were frequent even in the earliest recorded days. An important strike occurred in Egypt during the reign of Cheops, several thousand years before the Christian era. While the great pyramid erected in honor of that monarch was in course of construction it is stated that fifty thousand workmen refused to continue their labor.

They were dissatisfied with the food furnished to them, which was insufficient in quantity and poor in quality. Argument proving useless on the part of the contractors, soldiers were ordered to drive the strikers back to work, and many thousands of them were cut to pieces, while those who could escape fled. The others were compelled to resume their labor.

WORD TO ONE ASHAMED OF HER BLUSH

By Winifred Black

DEAR WINIFRED BLACK: I am reading your columns every time they appear in the paper, and I am sure you will help me to give me some advice. Why and what is it that whenever I talk to anyone, be it a lady or a gentleman, that I blush—blush so much that I am ashamed? I blush, no matter what I am talking about. Whenever I want to tell something, I blush before I even begin. I am afraid that makes my talking look like a lie, although it is not, as I am never telling lies. Many times, listening to others, I blush—looking in someone's face I blush. Thinking only of something when all alone I blush. Often I am silent in company, as I know as soon as I begin to talk I will blush. I know all this is not as maybe you will think, because I am not used to company—oh, yes, I am. Even when I am talking to my husband, to whom I've been married ten years, I blush.

He knows that, so this is not what worries me; but where don't I know me, and I don't know what they think of me. Only today I was telling something to one of my girl friends, and she said, "You're possible" and on that only I blushed. And I never yet thought of telling a lie, as I hate lies so much. I am thirty years old. Will I never get over that?

Please, dear Winifred Black, explain this to me, and tell me of something that will help me in my case. I am sure you will.

Yours,

E. B.

WELL, for goodness sake, E. B., if you have nothing more to worry about than that—join the Don't Worry Club this very day and get over it.

What if you do blush? What mortal crime is there in that?

When I was a girl I had a friend who was pleasant, and everybody played her about it. Her mother made a tragedy of it, and one of her brothers had such a fight with another boy who said something about Mary's face that he nearly killed the other boy and there was a scandal in the village, and Mary's brother ran away from home and went to sea, and no one knew where he was for years.

All because Mary turned in her face.

Be Glad You Can Blush

And Mary is married to the richest man in the county right in this minute and she has two pretty daughters and one of them too, in and Mary doesn't spend a minute of her time worrying about it.

The brother who ran away to be a sailor got a wonderful chance in China, and a few years ago he came home as rich as Croesus, with two fine boys and a very pretentious English wife you ever saw. And if Mary hadn't toed in and Brother hadn't had a fight with the boy who spoke of it, Brother would probably be running the village store in the little old village today and, ten chances to one, he'd have married the freckle-faced village girl who would could learn to spell quite correctly.

So see what James turning too did in the world.

I know women thirty years old who would put a thousand dollars in gold right into your hand if you would just teach them the trick of blushing.

Why, you strange woman, you, don't you realize that a blush is one of the most enchanting charms a charming woman can possess?

It means, in the first place, a sensitive and delicate spirit, and, in the second place, a sensitive and delicate skin. What more do you want?

Why shouldn't you blush? I know a woman who blushes, and every time I'm invited to a luncheon with her, I hope she'll sit opposite me at the table so I can peep at her to see how she blushes and to see her suddenly and watch the lovely tide of crimson flood

Try to Forget Yourself

Hearken, E. B., don't you think just a little more about yourself?

When you have something to say, don't think of yourself or of the person you're going to speak to. Think of what you have to say, say it, and you'll never know whether you blushed or not. How can you fix your mind on such a trifle as that in this great big world of lovely, interesting, fascinating, terrifying, heart-breaking, heart-aching, splendid, dreadful things?

There are others who were compelled to resume their labor.
